About me

I was born in 1983 for almost two decades, I have been fortunate to work and travel abroad, building friendships with people from diverse nationalities, cultures, religions, and races. Through these experiences, I've embraced new cultures, which have profoundly changed my perspective on life. They've shaped my attitude towards self-confidence, respect, and personal goals, transforming how I approach challenges and opportunities. These experiences have not only broadened my worldview but have also made me adaptable, open-minded, deeply appreciative of the diversity that surrounds us. Working in various environments has taught me the importance of effective communication and collaboration across cultural boundaries. I've become skilled at navigating change, thriving in fast-paced settings, and continuously learning from every encounter. This journey has built my resilience and strengthened my passion for growth, both personally and professionally.

Work Experience

From 2017 to 2024,

I lived and worked in New York, taking on diverse roles such as waiter, packer, bartender, barista, and food delivery to support my online studies. Each position helped me develop key skills in customer service, time management, and adaptability. These experiences allowed me to balance work and education, sharpening my ability to multitask in fast-paced environments.

From 2012 to 2017,

I worked for Carnival Cruise Lines as a photographer, responsible for capturing memorable moments for customers onboard. I was later promoted to printshop technician, ensuring that all printing services met corporate standards. design poster and all media that use on the cruise ship daily

From 2004 to 2011,

I worked for Royal Copenhagen (Thailand) as a painter, responsible for hand-painting tableware and dining ware for a world-renowned luxury brand in Denmark. I received specialized training from Danish experts, which I then translated and shared with local Thai painters, ensuring quality and craftsmanship met the highest standards.
